Leigh Hunt

Leigh believes passionately in the importance of digital connectivity, having worked for CityFibre for three years and previously being a founder member of the Warwickshire BDUK project where she worked for over ten years to bring improved broadband to the rural parts of Warwickshire.

As Regional Partnership Director, Leigh leads a team of City managers and Marketing professionals who work with stakeholders, Local Authorities and communities to help each of the locations where we are building to really maximise the benefits that a state-of-the-art full fibre network can bring.
